

Alzheimer's Disease

There are over 30 million people with dementia worldwide and will double by 2030. Alzheimer's is the most common cause of dementia.

Read more

Parkinson's Disease

One in every 500 people has Parkinson's. Brain nerve cells are slowly lost and the level of the chemical dopamine falls leading to slowing of movements.

Read more

Autism

Autism is a developmental problem affecting how a person communicates and relates to other people. It also affects how they make sense of the world around them.

Read more

Schizophrenia

A person who has this condition will often find it hard to tell what is real and what is not, to think logically and rationally, and function in society.

Read more

Bipolar Disorder

It takes on average 10 years to get a correct diagnosis of Bipolar and it can have devastating effects on every aspect of life.

Read more

Migraine

Migraine affects 1 in 5 women worldwide and is ranked by the World Health Organization as a leading cause of disability.

Read more

Neuropathy

Neuropathy and neuropathic pain encompasses very many different diseases but collectively is the commonest inherited neurological disorder. It remains a challenging problem to treat

Read more

Diabetes

We are currently facing a diabetes epidemic. More than 350 million people in the world now have diabetes.

Read more